SEAMEN'S ACT
HITS PURSE OF
SAN FRANCISCO

Financial Experts Show Great Loss to City Through Pacific Mail Withdrawal

Just what the Seamen's act has done to San Francisco has been computed in terms of dollars and export tonnage by the financial experts of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, says the San Francisco Examiner, which continues as follows: "The sale of the five liners of the Pacific Mail reduces the tonnage of transpacific vessels going out of San Francisco by 55.5 per cent, or little more than half. The withdrawal of the five vessels, under ordinary conditions, would mean a reduction in exports of $17,529,358 in a year.

"When to this sum is added the amount paid by the Pacific Mail for wages, supplies, repairs, dockage, fuel, exchange on drafts, stevedore work and other items of expense, the pocket-book nerve of San Francisco is badly lacerated.

Loss of Tourist Coin.
"San Francisco will lose several thousand dollars in hotel, restaurant and other bills paid by tourists who go back and forth through the city."

"The total tonnage of the Manchuria, Mongolia, Siberia, Korea and China, the five vessels which the Pacific Mail was forced to sell because of the La Follette act, is 31,992. The tonnage of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha plying in and out of San Francisco amounts to 25,194. This means a total tonnage of 57,186, of which more than half has been withdrawn.

"The total exports handled by the two steamship companies, the Pacific Mail and the Toyo Kisen Kaisha, during the year ending June 30, 1915, amounted to the snug sum of $31,584,429, more than half of which is blown away by the Seamen's act.

Export Business Lost.
"Figuring on a normal increase in trade during the present year if conditions were normal, it is likely that the Pacific Mail would have carried more than $20,000,000 worth of exports from San Francisco had the company stayed in business.

"There will be only one line left—and that a foreign one—to handle all the exports of San Francisco after November 4, when the Seamen's act goes into effect. The Seamen's act practically eliminates all steamship service to Manila, and reduces the service between San Francisco and Honolulu by three-quarters."

ROBBERS HELD MORE THAN 100 CITIZENS AT BAY.

MAPLE HILL, Kas.—Several robbers held more than one hundred citizens at bay while others of the band blew open the vault of the Maple Hill state bank and escaped with $3,000. It is believed there were seven men concerned.
The first explosion aroused citizens, who when they reached the street were met by armed men and forced to remain quiet until six charges of the explosive had been fired.
When the vault had been rifled the robbers disappeared.

Fire which swept the village of Hogansville, N. Y., near Watertown, caused damage of $75,000.
